

EUROPE SAVED BY OPENING OF RUSSIAN LANDS

Washington D. Vanderlip Discusses Future Of Russia.

START IS GOOD
Europe's Granary To Be Made Productive By America.

BY WASHINGTON D. VANDERLIP
By Wireless to the International News Service

Aboard the S. S. Aquitania, Approaching New York, Dec. 11.—Complying with the request of the international news service for a wireless interview, I am herewith sending, by the Aquitania's radio, my answers to the questions you wireless to me.

"What are the results of your mission?"

Briefly summed up, the results of my mission to Soviet Russia consist of the concession of 400,000 miles of territory in return for which Russia asks a chance to purchase $3,000,000,000 worth of goods in the United States. The Vanderlip syndicate acts as fiscal agents.

Russia asks immediate trade relations with the United States. She considers America—in spite of the Wilson invasion of Murmansk and Siberia—her only friend, and even though England sign (an agreement resuming trade?) Russia will give the bulk of her orders to us. She declares, however, that she will not beg at our door, that she will not beg at our door, that she will not beg at our door.

Q.—"What is Britain's present attitude? Will she recognize the soviets?"
Russia expects England to sign any day. My contracts were at first ridiculed in England, then they caused a panic. British labor was circularized with my interviews and threats were made that British workmen will "lay down their tools" unless the British government signs.

Q.—"What are your future plans?"
I expect American manufacturers and labor manufacturers and labor organizations to carry my fight for trade relations to congress. I have blazed the trail. Success will mean the return to prosperity of 150,000,000 Russians bereft of all for seven years and willing to work for us.

Europe will continue to fight and starve and seek our charity until her granary—Russia—is reopened. Restoration of trade relations with Russia will do more than the league of nations could ever do. It means putting a stop to quarreling and going back to work.

Q.—"Have British financiers obtained concessions from soviet Russia?"
No. British financiers have not obtained concessions.

Q.—"What is the Japanese attitude concerning Siberia?"
Japan will stick in Siberia until the Russians get locomotives. Russia is determined to reclaim Vladivostok and is ready to carry on for years.

Q.—"What is the Russian economic situation. What are Russia's prospects for winter?"
There is plenty of food in Russia except in the large cities. Now that locomotives will be released from the Polish and Wrangel fronts, conditions will improve.

NEW LEGISLATION URGED FOR SCHOOLS

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—Resolutions urging the state legislature to appropriate funds, pass needed legislation for the administration of state-wide Americanization work through the public schools and make the head a department of education, and favoring elimination of much of the red tape now in vogue relative to obtaining naturalization papers were adopted at the closing session of the Ohio Americanization conference.

ENGLAND RECEIVES GERMAN AIRCRAFT

London, Dec. 11.—Under the terms of the Peace Treaty a large consignment of German aircraft has arrived in London.

None of the machines is in flying condition. There are two giant Zeppelin aeroplanes, one with five and the other with four 240-horsepower Maybach engines. There is also an all-metal monoplane.

Engines and parts of the Gothas which took such a big part in enemy raids on London also figure in the consignment.

WAR AGAINST SLOT MACHINES STARTED

Dayton, O., Dec. 11.—Safety Director Myers and the police are at war with slot machines in city and the officers have been instructed to bring them all in the proprietors too. Three $50 fines were assessed today. Police inspectors played the machines and said the game giving out was no good and that many players did not take it but were after the checks. At one store, $20 taken from a machine represented $15 in checks passed over the counter police say.

NORTH POLE FLAG FOUND 400 MILES AWAY

The first picture to reach here of the flag signpost planted by Admiral Peary at the North Pole and which was discovered by Captain Godfred Hansen, Danish Arctic explorer, four hundred miles from its original geographical point. Captain Hansen returned last month after sixteen months in the Arctic. His party an auxiliary of the Amundsen expedition, reached the northernmost point (83 degrees north of Greenland). The illustration shows Captain Hansen and the flag signpost erected by Admiral Peary.

CLAIMS COLUMBUS COAL DEALERS ARE VIOLATING LAW

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—The claim that many local coal firms are violating the city ordinances requiring sale of coal by "the ton of 2,000 pounds" has been made by Edward M. Shields, city sealer.

Shields, in a circular to all dealers, and weighmasters, calls attention to the ordinance providing that very "ticket" showing weights of coal delivered "should show the gross, tare and net weight."

PRIMA DONNA ALLEGES INTemperance In Her Petition.

New Haven, Dec. 11.—Fritzi Scheff, the well known comic opera prima donna, has filed suit for divorce from her third husband, George Anderson, in the superior court in this city alleging intemperance. The cause is brought in this county because the plaintiff's home when she is not on tour is in the town of Wolcott. The suit is brought by Attorney John H. Cassidy of Waterbury. Miss Scheff asks permission to resume her maiden name.

The marriage to Anderson, an actor, took place in New Rochelle, N. Y., on Christmas Day, 1912. She was previously wed to Baron Fritz Von Hardeleben, a captain in the German army and later to the late John Fox, the author.

At Miss Scheff's home in Wolcott, it was stated that she is now on tour and that Anderson was in New York and was expected home later.

REQUEST ISSUANCE OF DECREE AIMED AT RAIL INCREASE

Suit Filed In Court Of Franklin County On Saturday.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—Request for the issuance of a decree temporarily restraining the interstate commerce commission, or other federal authorities, from ordering the 41 steam railroads in Ohio to increase passenger fares and freight rates on intra state traffic is contained in a suit filed today by Attorney General Price in the Franklin county common pleas court. The attorney general acted at the request of the state utilities commission.

Following a hearing on the merits of the case, the court is asked to make the restraining order permanent.

The attorney general's suit is based upon the claim that any action by federal authorities at this time boosting Ohio railroad intrastate passenger fares and freight rates would constitute an invasion of state sovereignty.

TWO HUNDRED ARE KILLED BY QUAKE

London, Dec. 11.—Two hundred persons were killed and 15,000 rendered homeless by an earthquake which practically leveled the district of Tepeleni, in Jugoslavia according to advices from Valona today. The American Red Cross is rushing a relief corps to the scene of the disaster.

AWAIT ARRIVAL OF WOMAN SAID SLAYER OF MAN

Clara Smith Hamon Believed To Be About To Surrender

Trail Of Missing Woman Completely Covered Officially Admit.

Fort Worth, Texas, Dec. 11.—Clara Smith Hamon, alleged slayer of Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma oil magnate, was eagerly awaited here today by an army of newspapermen and movie camera men. She was reported enroute here from either San Antonio or El Paso to surrender and the "fourth estate" maintained a constant vigil. Every train entering Fort Worth was boarded by newspapermen miles from here and given an exhaustive search.

The woman has left El Paso for this city, according to McLean, Scott & McLean, the law firm reported to be representing her.

Members of the law firm early today were baffled by her delay in arriving they said. They also declared they would advise her to go immediately to Ardmore to face trial without extradition proceedings.

Another theory is held by newspapermen that the missing woman will come here from San Antonio by airplane.

As El Paso and San Antonio are in opposite ends of the state this conflicting deduction gives an idea of how completely the missing women has covered her trail.

No warrant for her arrest has as yet reached here and police announced they would not molest her unless ordered to make an arrest by county Attorney Brown of Ardmore, Okla.

RECOMMEND GENERAL REVISION OF TAXES THROUGH CONVENTION

State Organizations Unite On Appeal To Legislature.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—That the state legislature authorize a general tax revision convention is the recommendation made at the state wide conference held here by representatives of 32 chambers of commerce, the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, Ohio Grange, Ohio Home Protective League, Ohio Tax Payers League, Ohio Manufacturers Association and Building and Loan Associations.

All the varied property interests in the state will be asked to send delegates. The legislature will be requested to pay the administrative expense of the convention and authorize the calling of experts.

The conference approved two proposed taxation measures. One is designed as a temporary relief bill, practically suspending the Smith one per cent tax law for three years pending further study of tax problems. It provides that tax districts at general elections may vote any tax levies they see fit until 1923.

The other, a debt limitation bill, retains the present limitations of 2 1/2 per cent of the tax duplicate in municipalities and 5 per cent in townships, but prohibits borrowing funds to meet current operating expenses, or deficiencies, except in anticipation of revenues, or for emergencies.

The state legislature this winter will be asked to pass these bills.

MUTES PRINCIPALS IN ACTION FOR DIVORCE IN AKRON

Akron, O., Dec. 11.—Judge Ahern heard a divorce case today and then again, he didn't hear it. He saw it and read it.

Two mutes were the applicants. Holgar Jensen charged Edith Jensen had become unruly because he couldn't afford to buy her expensive clothing and rich food.

Neither one of the complainants could talk, so the bailiff was rushed out to find some one who could talk and interpret for the judge.

An interpreter was finally located and Judge Ahern was made fully acquainted with the circumstances.

Only one of the witnesses could talk and she told the court that while the couple roomed at her house, she could often hear the sounds of blows being struck, and that once she was forced to interfere and compel the silent couple to quit making noise.

The decree was handed down as silently as the testimony was received. Judge Ahern writing it on a slip of paper for the contestants.

TO JOIN CAMPAIGN

Toledo, O., Dec. 11.—The Toledo Central Labor Union voted last night to join the campaign for resumption of trade with Russia as a means of relieving the industrial unemployment situation.

APPEAL BY WILSON SOUGHT.

Washington, December 11.—President Wilson was asked by Arthur C. Moses, Chairman of the District of Columbia Hoover Relief Committee, to issue a nationwide appeal for funds for the relief of the children of Central Europe.

IRELAND BECOMES ARMED CAMP; MARTIAL LAW MAY INCLUDE CITY OF DUBLIN

Cork Reported Quiet On First Day of Soldier Occupation.

Would Reduce Two Year Prohibition To 14 Months.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Amendment of the Johnson bill to reduce the two-year prohibition against immigration to the United States to 14 months and charges that foreign governments are "financing the movement of radicals to the U. S." marked another day of debate in the house.

Adoption by a vote of 87 to 25 of the amendment offered by Representative Mann, Republican, Illinois, to reduce the embargo period was a surprise to advocates of the legislation and constituted the first victory for Representative Siegel, Republican, New York, and Sabath, Democrat, Illinois, leaders of the opposition.

The Mann amendment actually limits the restriction period to one year, reducing by one-half the period originally proposed. As amended the bill cannot be enforced for two months after passage and can be applied only 14 months from the date of passage.

Another amendment offered by Representative Mann exempting the Philippine Islands from application of the measure was adopted by a vote of 87 to 25. The Illinois member, in offering the amendment said the Philippines might soon obtain their independence.

The days debate developed a strengthening of forces opposing the bill.

Representative Mann and other influential members announced their opposition to the measure. Reasons given for opposing it covered a wide field of subjects, including charges of laxity against the administration in enforcing existing laws; that the bill was extreme and radical, leading to permanent restriction of immigration; that it would deny asylum to "oppressed peoples" including the Irish and return them to tyrannical governments for punishment.

TRADE ORGANIZATION TO BE CAPITALIZED AT HUNDRED MILLION

Project Assured When Business Men Meet at Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Organization here today of a hundred million dollar trade corporation with a credit capacity of $1,000,000,000 for financing foreign trade was assured as the meeting of bankers, manufacturers, farmers and general business representatives began the second day of its session.

Former Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield, was in the foreground today as a strong possibility for president of the corporation which is to be formed under the Edge law, an amendment of the federal reserve act. Herbert Hoover likewise is being discussed as a possible head for the organization.

Capital stock in the new corporation, under the plan generally favored, would be subscribed by the banks and industrial corporations.

PONZI BEGINS FIVE YEAR PRISON TERM

Boston, Dec. 11.—Charles Ponzi, ex-finance wizard put away the pearl fur overcoat and the brown sack suit, the fur overcoat and all today and was fitted out by the tailor at the Plymouth house of correction into a suit of official gray wool with gingham shirt. For today Ponzi began to serve a five year term for using the mails to defraud. However if "little Charlie" as he is familiarly known, behaves at Plymouth, he may be released after a year.

Ponzi made the trip from the east Cambridge jail to Plymouth by railroad. Report has it that Ponzi will be assigned the job of chauffeur for the sheriff here.

Ponzi's wife accompanied him to jail. Ponzi, smiling and cheerful, was greeted by commuters at the South station here as he left for Plymouth.

TAX RECEIPTS WILL BE HALVED SAYS SENATOR IN TALK

Washington, Dec. 11.—"If business conditions for 1921 do not improve over present conditions, income and excess profits tax receipts will be cut in half next year," Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, declared in the senate.

CHURCH FUNDS STOLEN

Manchester, Dec. 11.—While Mrs. Kirby Hafford, residing a few miles west of this city, was working in the kitchen, three masked men entered her home through a front window and made away with $145 in church funds in her possession, according to her report to officials here. Mrs. Hafford is an officer of the church. The men, she said, fled in an automobile.

HUGHES LOOKED UPON AS NEXT SECY. OF STATE

Speculation Rife As to Whether Harding Offered Post.

NO WORD IS GIVEN

Hoover Will Confer With Senator On Sunday.

Marion, O., Dec. 11.—Did Senator Harding offer to Charles Evans Hughes the post of secretary of state? This is the question which is agitating political Marion today. Senator Harding and former Justice Hughes were in each others company constantly from the time Mr. Hughes arrived until he departed. None had the temerity to ask Mr. Hughes whether he had been tendered the post, in the presence of the man who has the disposal of the office.

Justice Hughes was all smiles when he and Senator Harding left for Columbus together. The senator seemed equally pleased with the result of the conference. Harry M. Daugherty, the Harding pre-convention campaign manager, probably knows. He is known to be close in the councils of the president-elect and he traveled east on the same train with Justice Hughes, at least as far as Harrisburg, Mr. Daugherty, however, when asked earlier in the week about the cabinet situation, expressed himself as follows:

"I don't know and if I knew I would not tell without express permission from Senator Harding."

Mr. Hughes' cryptic statement, issued after his interview, was interpreted by many as indicating that an accord had been reached on the outline of a foreign policy and that Mr. Hughes had been selected to carry out its provisions. It is known that he has been under consideration for a cabinet post. It is not known whether he wishes or would accept such a position.

Another question which is arousing interest here is whether Colonel George Harvey will be present at the conference between Senator Harding and Herbert Hoover. Colonel Harvey still is a guest at the Harding home and Mr. Hoover is expected Sunday.

Marion, O., Dec. 11.—William Jennings Bryan will confer with President-elect Harding. Friday, Dec. 18 it was announced today. Senator Harding said that he had invited Mr. Bryan, among other Republicans and Democratic leaders selected to confer with him, and that the date had been fixed to coincide with Mr. Bryan's presence in Marion to speak at the Laymen's meeting of the Marion Presbytery.

DINNER GIVEN TO 150 XENIA KIDDIES BY SOCIAL SERVICE

"Gee, kids, chicken! 'n' mashed potatoes, 'n' corn, 'n' gravy, 'n' everything!"

Two long tables offered a treat to be remembered to 150 poor kiddies of the city who gathered at the Chamber of Commerce at noon Saturday. The Social Service workers of Xenia were the Santa Clauses.

With faces shining with both cleanliness and gratitude, the children thoroughly enjoyed the food that was given them, and they entertained with songs, music and stories.

The girls were entertained and looked after preceding the dinner by Miss Edna Bloom who directed them in singing merry little songs and telling stories. Miss Margaret Clark had charge of the boys who were entertained in the billiard room of the Chamber of Commerce.

The dinner consisting of chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, corn, bread and butter, jelly, apples, milk, ice cream and coffee, was served, Mrs. McCalmont, Mrs. C. W. Linkhart, Mrs. Morris J. Bobb, Mrs. Milo Shodgrass, Mrs. Henry Dunkle and Mrs. Walter Dean, chairman. The entertainment committee consisted of Mrs. C. H. Little, Mrs. Robert Kingsbury, and Mrs. Charles Adair.

Tickets for the dinner were issued by Mrs. Eber Reynolds, which were presented at the door by the kiddies. Donations financed the dinner.

The Social Service will hold a rummage sale in the Manhattan building next Saturday, the proceeds to go to the children's clothing fund. Any donations will be gladly accepted at the Social Service rooms in the City building.

JAPAN WILL NOT REDUCE ARMAMENT

Geneva, Dec. 11.—Viscount Ishihara of the Japanese league of nations delegation today warned the disarmament commission that Japan will not reduce her armaments while the United States which is not a member of the league, continues to increase forces. The commission recommended to the league of nations assembly that the governments be urged not to exceed their present programs.

HORACE E. DODGE IS DEAD; WAS WEALTHY AUTO MANUFACTURER

Palm Beach, Fla., December 11.—Horace E. Dodge, millionaire automobile manufacturer, died here at his winter home last night.

His death was unexpected by his acquaintances and friends in Detroit who had not learned of Mr. Dodge's illness. He left Detroit several weeks ago with Mrs. Dodge, apparently in good health.

Mr. Dodge had been the sole head of the Dodge Brothers automobile interests since the sudden death early this year of John Dodge, his elder brother.

The brothers founded the automobile business that bore their name eight years ago, after having engaged in the manufacture of automobile parts since the early days of the industry, when they were associated with Henry Ford.

BEAUTY CHATS

THE EXTRA HENNA SHAMPOO

Paris, November 6th
In this city of artificialities I have made one discovery which I think is invaluable. This I shall call, for convenience, the "extra henna shampoo," since my readers are already familiar with the henna shampoo which brightens the hair without changing its color.

I wanted to find some method of preventing premature grayness or, if that could not be done, of covering up the early gray hairs so they do not show. In London I found the Pilocarpine Hair Tonic which feeds the color cells and prevents gray hair for a time at least. And in Paris I found an ingenious shampoo which covers up the gray hairs and which is not harmful. This is the henna shampoo given in the following fashion:

Shampoo the hair in the usual way giving the scalp whatever treatment is necessary to improve its health. While the head is still wet, but after the soapy water has been rinsed out mix a couple of ounces of Egyptian henna with enough very hot water to form a thin paste. Put this paste all over the hair and rub it into the scalp; rinse off with hot water, then with cooler until the hair is free of it; then dry in the usual fashion.

The effect will not be fully seen for a few days. Then you will find that the hairs which were white and which were showing through so plainly have become a faint golden yellow. They will still show but they will not be nearly so prominent, and you will be delighted at the result. Fortunately, these white hairs take the color faster than those already containing coloring matter. That is why it is so important for the henna to stay on only three minutes, you can of course experiment until you have found exactly how long your hair requires to take up the color. Your case may need only two minutes; you may need as much as five; but remember, that after a certain time the henna begins to color the entire head, so that if it were left on long enough you would have a pure Titian color. But under five minutes you are quite safe.

The henna may brighten the tones of the hair which is desirable but it will not actually change its color. The object of this "extra henna shampoo" is only to make those white hairs less visible and I would not advise it except for women who are annoyed at the first gray hairs that show. For these I consider it excellent. Anyone of course can use it, as it is perfectly harmless. I said I would not advise others to use it only because it is a trouble.

California—Using vaseline could not possible change the color of your eyes. If your present position is making your hands large the only thing to do is to give up the work if possible. Could you not find something else that would not have this effect?

THIEF DROPS LOOT.

Brookville, Ind., December 11.—At 4 o'clock yesterday morning thieves broke open the front window of the Fries & Geis hardware store. One robber had four rifles in his hand when the night policeman saw him and fired five shots. The thief dropped the guns in the gutter and jumped into a waiting auto and escaped.

SEEK MORE HELP TO ENFORCE LAW

Washington, Dec. 11.—Request for an additional appropriation of $17,508,789 to cover expenses during the present fiscal year was made of Congress by the bureau of internal revenue. It was explained that $9,000,000 was needed for the collection of war revenue $6,000,000 for refunding of taxes illegally collected, $1,600,000 for the enforcement of the prohibition and narcotic laws and the remainder to meet other expected deficiencies.

WIDOW SUES HER HUSBAND'S ALLEGED SLAYER FOR $25,000

Dayton, O., Dec. 11.—Laura Gay widow of Ben Gay, shot in his door at his home near Wiffeld, south of here last Sunday, has filed action in common pleas court asking $25,000 from John M. (Mote) Morris, alleged slayer of her husband and who is being sought by officials. Money left by Morris in local banks it attached. Gay, Morris and John Barrett, resent at shooting, all came from the Berea, Ky. vicinity.

Stop-See these Xmas phonographs

YOU never saw more exquisite cabinets.

The world has never produced any more exquisite cabinets.

These cabinets are descended out of the Golden Age of Furniture.

This was the age when Europe built its most luxurious palaces, created its greatest works of art, developed its finest types of craftsmanship.

Mr. Edison's designers went back to the furniture masterpieces of this period. They adapted 17 of them for the modern American home. They made every Edison Cabinet a period cabinet—even the least expensive.

You must see these cabinets. Only then will you appreciate what wonderful richness and atmosphere one will add to your home.

Ask about our Xmas Budget Plan. It manages your money economically. It makes 1921 help pay; and that's good business.

A Word About Prices

In 1914, as you can ascertain through practically any investment banker, the Edison Laboratories were selling phonographs on a narrower margin of profit than the other manufacturers. Since 1914, the price of the New Edison has advanced less than 15%—and a portion of this is war tax. "Edison stood the gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

PAYMENT DECEMBER TAXES NOW IN FULL SWING IN COUNTY

With the County Treasurer's books now open for the collection of the December taxes for the year 1920, taxpayers are crowding the lobby in the Treasurer's office, now the busiest office in the court house.

In addition to the special road, ditch and street tax, the County Treasurer is required to collect for street cleaning and the special assessments levied by the city for street improvements, including the pavement, sewer and gutter work, recently completed on certain streets.

Confusion on the amount of this year's installments for street paving, is prevalent according to County Treasurer J. E. Sutton, due to the amounts advertised being only the actual cost, to which must be added the interest on the principal on each installment.

Because of the fact that many of the taxpayers believe the actual cost as advertised is all that they will have to pay, they are taking much of the time of officials in the Treasurer's office during this busy period, to have the matter explained. On each installment, according to County Treasurer Sutton, there is added interests at 5 1-2 per cent on the principal that remains. As an example, if a total assessment is $200, payable in ten years, each installment is $20, to which, however is added interest on the principal at 5 1-2 percent, which makes an additional $11 or $31 for the first payment instead of the $20 which represents the original costs. If taxpayers would be careful to inform themselves on this addition of interest to each installment they would save much time for the officials in the midst of the December tax collection rush.

In order to facilitate the work and save as much time as possible, the Treasurer and his deputies have prepared all the regular receipts and they have also written special receipts for all the special taxes. These receipts were ready before Thanksgiving Day.

County Treasurer Sutton urges taxpayers in paying their December taxes to bring or send their last tax receipts or a complete list of their property, as one means of facilitating the work of taking as little time as possible to each taxpayer.

Taxpayers are also urged to call for their tax in the name of the owner of the property on April 11, 1920. The Treasurer's books are made up from April 11 for ensuing year and no changes are made until the next April.

It is pointed out by the Treasurer that in giving information over the telephone mistakes are liable to occur and it is better to make request through the mail and in so doing designate the property clearly, in whose name it is listed, in what township, and the number of acres, or if in a city or village, give the number of the lot. If parties asking for information would simply send signed blank checks with the proper description as given above, the treasurer will forward the receipts and thereby save the taxpayer some money and save the treasurer time. Taxpayers are requested in writing in to send self addressed and stamped envelopes for the return of the receipts. Many taxpayers take advantage of the opportunity of sending their blank signed checks and allowing the Treasurer to fill them out.

When checks given for taxes are not paid on presentation at the bank, taxes will be restored to the duplicate without notice. Taxpayers on getting their receipts are urged to examine their receipts carefully and see that all of their property appears. It is urged upon taxpayers the necessity of calling as early as possible to pay taxes if convenience and delay is to be avoided. Taxes must be paid before December 20, and property on which tax is not paid by that time will be placed on the delinquent list.

COURT NEWS

Committed to Hospital

Robert aBrer was committed to the Dayton State Hospital by Probate Judge J. Carl Marshall Saturday morning following a lunacy inquest held in Probate Court. An affidavit of lunacy was filed by J. H. Bailey.

Injunction Suit Filed

Osha May Shaw is the plaintiff in another injunction suit against the County Auditor and County Treasurer enjoining the collection of special assessments levied by the city for street improvements.

The petition argues that the plaintiff is the owner of 4.63 acres of land, 198.5 feet of which border on West Second street, and on which a total assessment of $1,433.33 has been levied. The petition alleges that this amount is in excess of the special benefits conferred and of 33 1-3 per cent of the actual value of the premises. A temporary restraining order was granted by Judge R. L. Cameron of Marysville. Attorney F. L. Johnson is representing the plaintiff in the action, while City Solicitor J. A. Finney will handle the case for the defendants.

HOW HE ENDED KIDNEY TROUBLE

"I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and for three weeks could not get out of doors and scarcely out of bed," writes C. E. Brewer, Village Springs, Ala. "Could not bend over at all without the most excruciating pains. I purchased a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills. Was relieved after first few doses and continued their use until completely cured. I consider Foley Kidney Pills the best remedy in the world. No recurrence of my trouble." Sayre & Hemphill.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING ESSENTIAL FACTOR TO BUSINESS SAYS C. OF C. SPEAKER

Almost 100 people heard the interesting address given by H. W. Karr, of the Illustrated Lecture Division of the National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, at the December banquet and meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Friday evening.

Mr. Karr spoke on the subject of "Getting the Most out of Retailing," illustrating his lecture with 6,000 feet of motion picture film, depicting the advantages of proper use of salesmanship, advertising, window displays and store organization. During the banquet served by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany, which preceded the address, the Chamber of Commerce orchestra played a number of selections.

H. A. Higgins, acting as toastmaster at the meeting, and introduced Mr. Karr, at the same time paying a tribute to the organization which he represented, the N. C. R., and President John Patterson, for his civic pride and the spirit he manifests toward his home city of Dayton.

Mr. Karr said in part: "In these days of keen competition it is not easy to be a successful merchant. There was a day when the merchant could sit down and wait for business to come, but now he must coax trade through advertising, displays, store arrangement and prompt and cheerful service on the part of employees. He also is confronted with the problem of buying, financing, and general store management. The fact is that the merchant who aims at the highest success has a big job on his hands."

"Competition is proving that store methods and store service must be improved to meet the demands of the buying public, and at the same time make a reasonable profit. Experience has shown that one of the best ways to get more out of retailing is to study and profit by the methods that have enabled other merchants to get ahead."

None of the topics dealt with by Mr. Karr were more interesting than newspaper advertising, in which connection he said: "Among the important things to which many merchants do not give sufficient time, owing to the press of details in advertising; yet statistics show that hundreds of merchants have failed because of this neglect."

"Newspaper advertising travels far and wide. It is the medium through which the merchant gets his message to the people in their homes. Customers like to read the store news and general news together. The merchant who fills his ads with store news and interesting information about the goods he carries is sure to win the favorable attention of the reader. Ask any merchant who his strongest competitors are and he will tell you almost without an exception the names of stores doing the largest amount of advertising."

"Unfortunately many merchants are of the opinion that it is necessary to exaggerate to get the attention of prospective buyers. That is not true. Of course flaming headlines like 'The Greatest Values Ever Offered' will attract attention but used too frequently will destroy confidence in advertising. It is sufficient to tell the facts. If you have an exceptional bargain, say so, but tell the truth about it."

Mr. Karr said it is foolish to spend a few dollars and then say it does not pay. "It does pay," he said, "as is attested by the thousands of merchants who have become successful through its judicious use. I would urge that every merchant make it a daily policy."

BRUNSWICK Method of Reproduction

The Ultona, an exclusive all-record reproducer, built as a part of the instrument, not an attachment, not a makeshift. But an invention which has upset all old ideas. Thanks to the Ultona, music lovers are freed from one-record phonographs, and may now hear all records, whatever make, played at their best.

See if you can find the equal of Brunswick tone

Hear The Brunswick, then make comparisons. That is our advice to every one who calls.

Thus we have gained such a tremendous following. For no music lover, however critical, can find an equal in tone, workmanship and finish.

The Brunswick brings to you new-day betterments, improvements you can't find elsewhere. No other phonograph has the Ultona. No other has the Brunswick Tone Amplifier. They are Brunswick patents.

And no phonograph is built better, for the House of Brunswick has been noted for nearly a century for its fine wood-crafting. Brunswick Phonograph cabinets are made by Brunswick, not bought here and there.

We invite you to come to any Brunswick dealer and ask him to prove our case.

Ask that he play your favorite selections. Then hear them on any other instrument. Let your ear be the judge. We never fear the verdict.

We've urged always that comparison be the basis of your purchase. And in over a half million homes there are Brunswicks that could never be replaced.

There is no record made that a Brunswick owner cannot play—and play better.

"AND WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?" ASKED THE LAWYER— THEN JESUS TOLD THE STORY OF "THE GOOD SAMARITAN."

For weeks past the whole civilized world has been shocked with the news that millions of people are starving to death on account of the frightful famine in northern China. The need for help is so great that the noble Red Cross, as always efficient to help in times of distress, promptly appropriated $500,000; and some of our leading publications, for instance the Christian Herald and the Literary Digest, opened their columns for subscriptions for relief. (We know one Xenia woman of only moderate means who has contributed to both of these.)

Of the various uses to which money may be put, none should have a stronger appeal to us than to save our fellow beings from starvation. The man or woman not touched by such conditions is certainly a hardened wretch.

At last President Wilson awakes to the situation. He has just issued an appeal to the country for help to save human life from starvation in China. We commend him, too, for the shape in which he has put his appeal. To enforce it, he names a large committee of leading and wealthy citizens, men and women. A more efficient plan to bring results, he could scarcely have devised. Some of the people he appointed to carry forward this God-blessed work are very wealthy. We trust they may be stimulated to vie with each other in financial aid to this noble charity.

To boost their impulses, and everybody else's, we suggest the reading of the story of the "Good Samaritan," Luke 10, verses 25 to 37. The road from Jerusalem to Jericho is through a mountainous and rocky desert, infested with robbers. A poor Jew, in passing, fell among thieves, who stripped and wounded him, leaving him half dead. A Priest and a Levite men of public character of his own nation, "passed by on the other side," heartlessly giving no help; but a certain Samaritan, a nation hated by the Jews, took compassion on the poor fellow, put him on his own horse, himself walking, and took him to an inn, paid for attention to him and left money for further care. He was succored by a stranger. Christ gave this as an illustration that everybody in distress is our neighbor needing help, and that we are criminally negligent of duty if we heartlessly "pass by on the other side." We are to "Go thou, and do likewise as the Samaritan did."

The true proof of the inherent nobleness of our common human nature is the sympathy it betrays with suffering. Christianity is the highest manifestation of humanity.

And while you are thinking of these poor people starving to death in China, read the first five verses of the 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians.

COVETOUS EYES ARE SET ON 240,000 JOBS WHICH HARD- ING WILL HAVE TO GIVE OUT.

When Warren G. Harding assumes the role of chief executive of the nation next March, he automatically will become the greatest job dispenser in the world.

The latest records of the census bureau and of the civil service commission disclose that there will be approximately six hundred thousand persons on the executive rolls of the government, and this does not include the judicial and legislative lists, nor the muster rolls of the army and navy. Of this great total four hundred and fifty thousand men and women are in the classified service, which means that having passed civil service examinations they are reasonably immune from political attack. The remaining two hundred and forty thousand, however, hold the places, large and small, upon which the covetous eyes of the job hunters are set.

Without the postoffices of any class, the new President will have a multitude of jobs to fill. The ten cabinet posts, each paying $12,000, of course rank first, although they are not as remunerative as other places at the disposal of the President. The best paying position in the government service, aside from the office of President himself, is that of governor general of the Philippines, which carries a salary of $18,000; the vice-governor receiving $10,000. Other territorial governorships which President Harding will fill are Porto Rico, $10,000; Alaska, $7,000, and Hawaii, $7,000.

Next in importance to places in the cabinet are the eleven ambassadorships. They each pay $17,500, and include posts in Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Chile, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Peru and Spain. If the international atmosphere clears sufficiently during his term, the new President also will have ambassadorial posts, not now filled, in Germany, Austria, Hungary, Russia and Turkey.

Next in diplomatic importance are the ministers. Six of these, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Luxemburg, the Netherlands and Poland, pay $12,000 each.

The "jobs" named are only the "high spots" of the thousands the President-elect will have to dispense. His first act probably will be to name his secretary, who will receive $7,500. This will be followed by the selection of his personal staff of stenographers and White House clerks. If he follows the rule of his predecessors he will not make many changes in the personnel of the executive offices or in the White House proper, for there he will find men who have faithfully served through many administrations.

RIPPLING RHYMES

SUNSET OF LIFE.

I'm waxing old, I've reached the gloaming, the coming night its shadow flings; and here I sit, my whiskers combing, and musing on all things. The young go by, the dancers, laughers, the singers of life's morning hymn; and I'm unlike some other gaffers; for envy makes their eyes grow dim. Some graybeards watch the young in sorrow, and long to tread their shining ways, and sigh, "Youth always has tomorrow, but age has only yesterday." The wintry dusk seems rather tragic, but I would cry, "Nay, nay, my dear," if some kind fairy, with her magic, would take me back to yesterday. I once was young and full of trouble, in trackless wilds I went astray, and every bright hope proved a bubble, my idols all had feet of clay. I had no tranquil eyes or mornings, all day a weary load I bore; the road was marked with solemn warnings, left there by failures gone before. Oh, youth was full of fire and fever, and love was false and vows askew, and every hope was a deceiver, and only bitter dreams came true. And now I sit, with a valise full of bottled grapejuice by my side; the closing hours are calm and peaceful, and slumber comes at eventide.

UNIQUE RECITAL PROVES RE-CREATED VOICE NEAR PERFECT

One of the most unique and thoroughly pleasing recitals ever given in Xenia was presented Friday evening at the Opera House by Mr. Harvey Hindermeyer and The Dann Trio. The recital was a success in every respect. Messrs. J. A. Beatty and Son secured these capable artists.

When Mr. Hindermeyer appeared on the stage and stated that he would sing in unison with his RE-CREATED voice and that the audience would not be able to tell the difference between RE-CREATED and living voice, many people were skeptical. At attempt to match that wonderful voice with a device of mere wood and metal! Impossible! The skeptics were soon convinced, however, for, in Mr. Hindermeyer's initial number on the program lips ceased to move, but his song went on. Slowly it dawned on the mystified audience that Mr. Hindermeyer was no longer singing, though his voice came forth as clear and sweet as before. Again he sang, but the audience only knew it was the living Hindermeyer by the motion of his lips. It seemed as if there were two artists on the stage—two singers, but only one voice. The tones emanating from the New Edison were identical with those of the living artist, and it was impossible to detect any difference. The instrument produced not an echo or a copy, but the real thing—Hindermeyer's voice, unaltered by an mechanical transformation—unspoiled by any metallic ring.

After the applause which followed this "miracle" exhibition The Dann Trio, three charming girls, shared the stage with their fellow musician, the New Edison. They played in unison with the RE-CREATION of their art. Only by watching them could one know when the living artists were being heard alone and when the music came in double measure. The RE-CREATION was absolutely identical with the original in every particular.

Further numbers in which Mr. Hindermeyer and The Dann Trio performed with themselves impressed the conviction of one's inability to distinguish between RE-CREATED art and its original. The concert ended with several numbers by the artists alone.

Is It Yours

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF
Alfred De Musset
December 11, 1810

Alfred De Musset, French poet, playwright and novelist, was born in 1810 in a house in the very center of old Paris. All during his childhood he was surrounded by influences to encourage his vivid imagination. He took up the study of law and threw that over for medicine, which he hated, and ended by adopting no profession at all. A childish attempt at verse was considered sufficiently good for the young Alfred to be introduced to Victor Hugo at whose house he met such great literary figures as Prosper Merimee and Sainte-Beuve.

Throughout this period of literature the romantic school of writing had held sway. De Musset wrote his famous "Ballad to the Moon" which was a parody on the bad romantic verse of that time. He continually compared the moon over a people to the dot over an "i" and the poem by its ridicule helped to kill the ultra-romantic school.

During the rest of his life there was a literary war on between the classic and the romantic school of writing with De Musset as a brilliant leader of the opposition. His essays, poems, and plays are among the best of the modern French school. He was one of the many brilliant young men of his day who was in love with George Sand, but he seemed to take the love affair seriously and was heart broken when she ended the affair.

He died in Paris when he was 47 years old and as is so often the case, his literary importance immediately increased. Many plays which he had written but which were not produced were promptly put upon the stage and many of them have played ever since.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. Brandt Bell who for five years past has been a faithful and obliging carrier for the Daily Gazette has decided to give up his route, Lawrence Landaker will take Mr. Bell's place as carrier for the paper.

Richard Gowdy, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gowdy had been quite ill with pneumonia.

The fuse factory is now employing about thirty hands having made a very substantial growth in the past few years. Indications are for a further increase, and the factory in time will be one of Xenia's leading industries.

The Overfield handle factory which has been in operation at the old canning factory for some weeks is getting in good running order and ten or a dozen hands are engaged at work. While this factory has not yet been started to its full capacity a large amount of work is being turned out and shipped away.

ANTIOCH DROPS TWO GAMES BY DECISION DEFEATS

Antioch College basketball teams, dropped two games Friday, when the varsity quintet was defeated by Earlham at Richmond, 60-14, and the Academy team, lost to Stivers High of Dayton, 62-21.

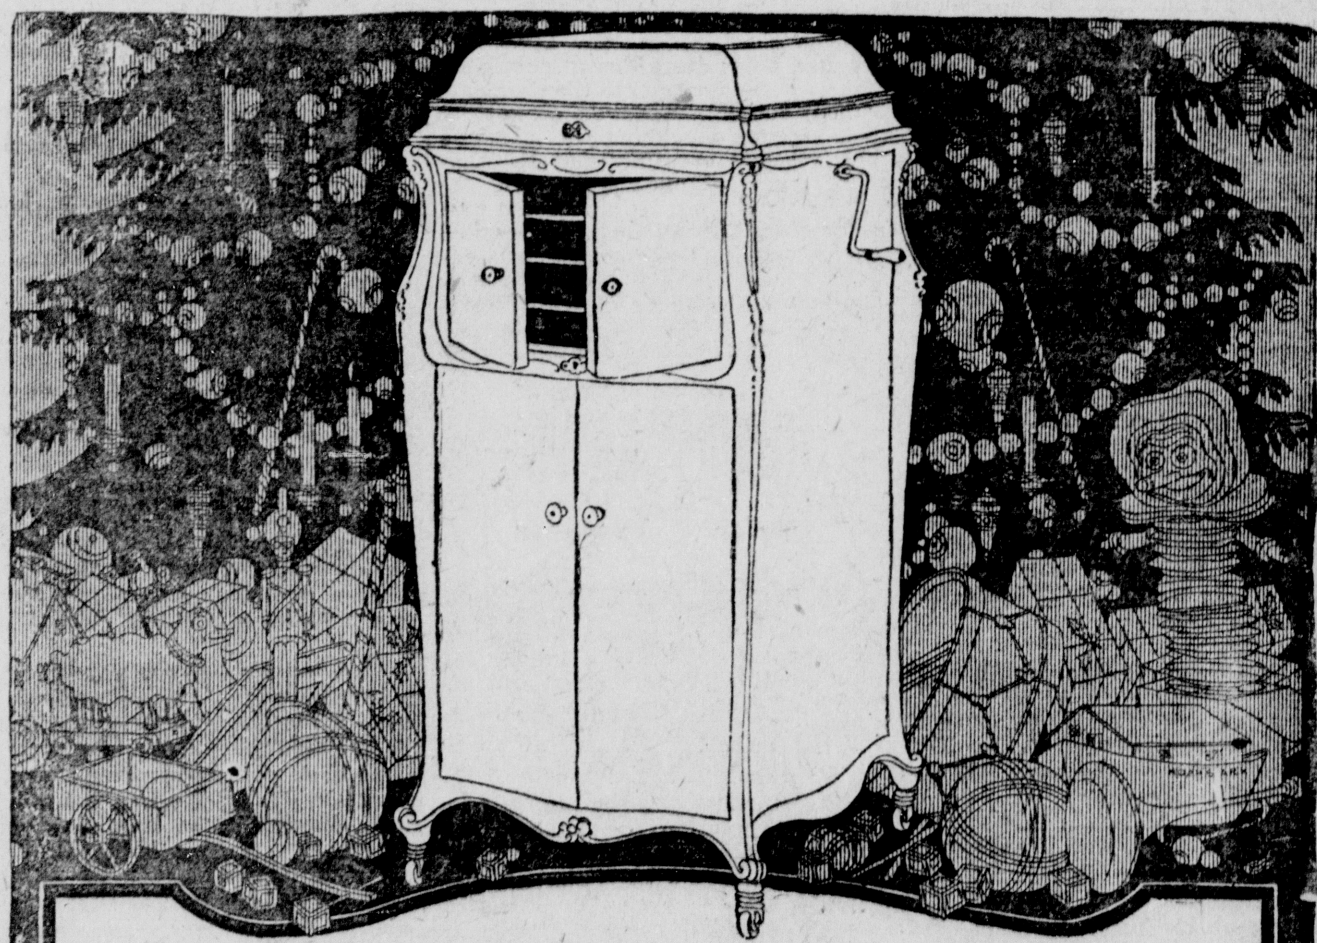

The lightning passwork of the Quaker basketballers completely puzzled Coach "King" Godfrey's Yellow Springs charges at Richmond, and the Antiochians were able to secure but few shots. Earlham used thirteen men in the game, the second team playing during the last half.

Carey and Lawler starred for Earlham, while Dwight Northup, scoring ten of Antioch's 14 points, was the shining light of the Greene County aggregation.

Antioch Academy lost its game in the last half after holding the Stivers pill tossers to almost even terms during the initial period. Stivers scoring came thick and fast in the second session of the pastime and the prop ads were soon outdistanced, Weston and Hughes starred for Antioch.

GIRLS' TEAM BEATEN

Cedarville College Girl's basketball team was defeated by the Springfield Y. W. C. A. Industrial Girls set at Cedarville Friday night, by the score of 34-21.

Last Night's Audience

Mystified by Phonograph

Hear famous artists

compare art with RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph-- could not tell the two apart

HARVEY HINDERMYER and THE DANN TRIO, gave an extraordinary recital last night at the opera house.

Mr. Hindermeyer walked on to the stage and stood beside a stately cabinet. He began to sing "Home At Last." The audience immediately yielded to the spell of his beautiful voice. Then suddenly there was a stir—a subdued murmur of surprise—and a perplexed rubbing of eyes. The voice continued to fill the auditorium with undiminished sweetness—your ears were proof of that—but his lips had become absolutely silent—your eyes told you that.

What wizardry was this? It was the test of direct comparison with the living artist, which Thomas A. Edison has developed to demonstrate that the Official Laboratory Model of his new phonograph will sing any song exactly as it was sung by the artist, and that his RE-CREATION of a singer's voice, as it comes from his wonderful new phonograph, positively cannot be distinguished from the singer's actual voice, when both are heard in direct comparison.

Mr. Hindermeyer made repeated comparisons—always with the same result. It was truly wonderful. The Dann Trio made similar tests, which were equally amazing. This master achievement of the great wizard, Edison, marks a new epoch in music.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

You can have a duplicate of the wonderful instrument used at Opera House and, if you act quickly, we can furnish you with an engraved certificate (signed by these artists) certifying that it is an exact duplicate in tonal quality of the instrument they used in their amazing comparison; also that it will sustain precisely the same test.

We have ten of the famous Official Laboratory Models and the artists have certified every one of them. Come to our store at once and ask to see and hear the Official Laboratory Models on which Mr. Hindermeyer and The Dann Trio have issued their Certificates of Authenticity.

NO DRASTIC CHANGES IN BASKETBALL RULES MADE AT COLUMBUS

The new basketball rules offered by the code makers to govern the game during the season 1920-1921, while not presenting drastic changes, are inclined to aid the sport considerably and make the game more popular than ever.

This is the opinion of basketball officials, coaches and critics, following a meeting held at the Chittenden Hotel in Columbus Monday evening, and called by L. W. St. John director of athletics, Ohio State University, to interpret the season's rules so that basketball officials through the Ohio conference will be uniform in decision.

Ward Young, of this city, former high school football coach and an Ohio Conference basketball official was present at the meeting.

The rule providing for tossing the ball up on the free throw line when it is held under the basket or in a space behind the backboard and between the four lines, is considered the most important of the code changes. Under the rules of the past it has been impossible when a toss-up was necessary under the basket for one player to knock the ball in the basket. This is eliminated by the new rule, which required that the ball be tossed up on the free throw line, a distance of 15 feet from the net. It was decided by officials at Columbus, that this rule shall be in effect if the ball is held by either one of the holding players has one foot or more in the free throw lane.

The rule makers made another interesting change this year when they decided that a player who has left the game except for four personal fouls or for other disqualifications, may reenter the game at once. This leaves the possibility open for coaches to substitute a player for a brief period in order to impart signals to the men playing, and to give the man removed an opportunity to rest and further coaching. However, the officials decided that the substitution must be bona fide, although no time limit is set for the change, officials being left to their own discretion in the matter of time. According to another new rule, team captains in order to save time are given a minute free in which to make substitutions whenever time is called out for minor infractions.

According to the revised code, a player starting a dribble from a standing position, may take one step, but must start the dribble before the second foot touches the floor, according to the interpretation given the ruling by officials. The officials at Columbus also decided that a man must shoot or pass before his second foot strikes the floor, and if he fails to do this he shall be guilty of traveling.

A new rule says: "A player who changes his position without appreciably advancing the ball in any direction shall not be considered as running with the ball." The rule makers have also strengthened the rule governing blocking and ask officials to assist in breaking up this practice. Officials are also urged to call "held balls" promptly in order to assist in avoiding personal contact as much as possible. Another change has been in the size of the court, the two-feet previously allowed at the end of each court and back of the basket, now known as an end one being made a part of the court proper.

MEETINGS OF FARM BUREAU ARE WELL ATTENDED IN COUNTY

The Farm Bureau meetings which have been held in Greene county the past week have been well attended and the interest is running high.

"We have been fortunate in securing speakers for this preliminary campaign," said County Agent Ford S. Prince. "A. P. High of Crawford County, who has been here this week, is one of the pioneers in the Farm Bureau movement in Ohio and delivers a great talk on the Farm Bureau. He will be followed Saturday evening and all next week by Oscar Pearson of Troy, who is also an able speaker and an enthusiastic farm bureau worker," declared Mr. Prince.

"W. L. Bryson who has just returned from the American Farm Bureau federation conference at Indianapolis has a wonderful story to tell of that meeting. With the interest that is being shown in these preliminary gatherings the campaign which will be put on beginning Jan. 3, 1921, is bound to be a success.

"Our preliminary campaign will be brought to a close by a big County meeting and banquet to be held in Xenia, Dec. 29. Mr. Charles W. Scott of Hillsboro, will be the speaker at the banquet," said the county agent.

All the drivers and officers connected with the campaign will attend this meeting.

The following is the schedule of the remaining preliminary community meetings:

Saturday, Dec. 11 7:30 p. m., Spring Valley.

Monday, Dec. 13, 7:30 p. m., Caesar Creek.

Tuesday, Dec. 14, 1:30 p. m., Yellow Springs.

Wednesday, Dec. 15, 7:30 p. m., Ross Township.

Thursday, Dec. 16, 7:30 p. m., Xenia.

Friday, Dec. 17, 7:30 p. m., New Jasper.

Tuesday, Dec. 21, 7:30 p. m., Cedarville.

CENTRAL HIGH WINS OVER CAESARCREEK

Showing clever team-work for but two weeks' practice, Central High School basketball team defeated Caesarcreek High in the season's curtain raiser at the rink Friday night 46-18.

Caesarcreek, fresh from three victories over smaller teams in the county, proved no match for Coach Harold Conner's proteges. They were handicapped by the big rink court somewhat and did a lot of wild shooting when they did secure possession of the ball.

Every man on the local five, with the exception of the substitutes, who were injected into the pastime in the second half, broke into the scoring with one or more field goals. Captain "Bill" LeSourd, who had trouble on the get-away, annexed six goals in the last half for a total of seven. Hudson captured five baskets, Moore six, Owens one and Boxwell three. Bales scored most frequently for the Caesarcreek lads, with three field goals and three fouls, while Baynard secured four fielders.

Hopping into the lead in the first few minutes the locals were never headed, the score at the end of the first period being 23-7.

The line-up and summaries: Central High (46) Caesarcreek (18) Hudson 1 f Dun p LeSourd (c) r f Baynard Moore c Bales (c) Owens 1 g Van Tress Boxwell r f Paulkner Substitutions: Central—McCallister for Owens, Shoup for Boxwell; Caesarcreek—Conklin for Dunlap. CHANGE IN SCHEDULE MAY BE EFFECTED BY TRACTION LINE

The possibility of a change in schedule and system of operation that might possibly bring about a better financial condition and enable the Dayton & Xenia traction company to continue operation of the city car service here, was the promising result of a two hour conference, of a committee of local business men with traction officials in Dayton Friday.

J. W. Prugh, chairman of the city transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Secretary L. C. Tingley and City Manager Riddle, formed the local committee that conferred with Superintendent Fernald in regard to the report that the company would discontinue local car service as soon as the company's franchise to operate on Detroit street, expired December 20.

It was pointed out by Mr. Fernald that the operation of local car service here was costing the company $300 a month. He explained that the car service to the East End was not patronized and was a dead loss, with the exception of early in the morning and in the evening, when workers living in that end of town were going to or returning from their work.

It was suggested by the Committee that a readjustment of the schedule and the system of operation of the car service here might be fraught with better financial results and the committee is attempting to have Superintendent Fernald present a schedule that would be more satisfactory to the company, to the city commissioner for their approval.

Mr. Fernald has been called from Dayton for about ten days on business and on his return the committee will again confer with him and endeavor to bring about an adjustment that will prevent the abolishment of the car service here. Superintendent Service of the Springfield & Xenia Traction Line, which holds no franchise with the city on Detroit street, but which holds a lease agreement with the Dayton & Xenia line to operate cars on that street, was present at the meeting in Dayton. Should the Dayton & Xenia line permit its franchise on Detroit street to expire and discontinue the local car service, it would have no right to operate cars on Detroit street, with the exception of using the "Y" at Main and Detroit to turn around, and the Springfield & Xenia line would be left without access to the interurban station on North Detroit street, as its own franchise ends at the city limits. The Dayton & Xenia line's franchise on Main street expires in three years.

PROGRESS IS SHOWN IN SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS IN COUNTY

Further progress is being shown by the reports in the Xenia stores of the Anti-Tuberculosis Seals, this week. The sale Thursday was in charge of the First Methodist Church, with Mrs. Charles Kelble, chairman, who reported the sales as totalling $23.06.

Friday's sale was in charge of the Lutheran church with Mrs. B. B. Uhl as chairman, with a sale of $7.90 worth of seals.

Saturday's campaign is in charge of Miss Helen Dods of the Second U. P. church, Mrs. Walter Harner of the Advisory Board of the Seal Sale Committee, will direct Monday's sale and Miss Emma Davidson will be charge Tuesday.

The Joseph Foody Post of the American Legion reports $25. A Finley of the lodge committee reports $4 donated by the Wahoo Tribe, No. 74. $2.10 from the Phoenix Rebecca Lodge No. 74.

Reports from the county committee are beginning to be returned and Miss Smith, chairman, of the Cedarville committee reports a full quota of $50.

The Seal Committee wishes to state that any children selling the seals are doing so without the committee's permission. The children's campaign will commence Dec. 20.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out Kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water, also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

EAST END NEWS

On Dec. 9, 1920, before an enthusiastic crowd of approximately 220, the East High School basketball team met the Alumni Class of 1920 in an opening game of the season at the rink, playing a tied game of 16 to 16.

The game was fast and exciting from the start. The East High team played against superior weight and their speed and team work seemed almost magic. Throughout the game the players so conducted themselves it seemed impossible to single out the stars but Captain Fenuels especially distinguished himself never failing to throw a basket when the opportunity was reasonable. At the close of the game the Alumni was accredited with carrying off the laurels but later it was mutually agreed by game of both teams that a last foul basket made by East High had not been recorded. The tied score will require another game to be played later in the season.

The lineup was as follows:
East High (16) Alumnus (16)
Scott r Cunnigan
Smith l Greene
Fenuels c Smith
Dickinson rg Ward
Ware lg Harris

The game was preceded by an amateur game between the Junior East Hi team under Capt. Bernard Ware and Second team of East Hi under Capt. Cyrus Taylor in which the remarkable skill of Capt. Taylor in passing, won for the former team by a score of 19 to 4.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' purgative Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

RABBIT DISHES.
Stewed Rabbit—Cut rabbit in suitable pieces. Soak in salt water. Put into a stew pan with a little boiling water, fat and seasoning. Onion if liked is an addition. Cover and cook below the boiling point or in a steamer for two hours or until tender.
Rabbit stock should always be used. It can be substituted for chicken stock in any recipe.

Rabbit Fricassee—One rabbit (about three pounds), two or three tablespoons bacon or pork fat, one medium-sized onion, three cups of boiling rabbit stock, one-half cup strained tomatoes, parsley, thyme, salt and pepper to season.
Soak rabbit in salted water and cut meat in small pieces, about two inches square. Put bones, etc., in saucepan, cover with cold water and simmer slowly for an hour. Add while cooking an onion, salt and pepper to season.
Sprinkle rabbit meat with flour, salt and pepper. Heat fat in a frying pan, add onion sliced thin and rabbit meat. Cook until well browned, stirring often. Add stock from bones, tomatoes and seasonings. Simmer until the meat is tender. Thicken gravy if necessary and serve on toast or small baking powder biscuits.

Rabbit à la King—Omit the tomatoes from the recipe for rabbit fricassee and add cream in its place, also chopped green peppers and a small can of mushrooms or a few fresh ones.

Rabbit Croquette With Vegetables—Three tablespoons of butter substitute, one small onion (chopped), one-quarter cup flour, one teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon paprika, one cup rabbit stock, three egg yolks, one and one-half cups cold boiled rabbit, cut in small dice, one-half cup boiled ham, cut in small dice, one tablespoon lemon juice.

Melt butter, add onion and cook two or three minutes, stirring constantly. Add flour and seasonings and stir until well blended. Stir in stock slowly and beat to the boiling point. Add all other ingredients except lemon juice and cook five minutes. Add lemon juice, remove from fire and spread on a platter to cool. Shape, roll in flour, beaten egg and then in bread crumbs and fry a golden brown in deep, hot fat. Place in a ring around the edge of a hot platter and fill center with hot, buttered carrots, peas and cauliflower.

Fried Rabbit—Two rabbits, salt, pepper, flour, one-half pound bacon or salt pork, one cup milk, parsley. Cut rabbits in pieces for serving and soak in salted water for two or three hours. Drain, dry and sprinkle each piece with salt, pepper and flour. Fry bacon or pork in a large frying pan. Add rabbit, cover and cook slowly about one and one-half hours, turning meat from time to time as it browns. Add milk and cook slowly twenty to thirty minutes. Remove to a hot platter and garnish with parsley.

"The Fordson at Work"

A MIGHTY valuable booklet just issued by the Ford Motor Company. It is yours for the asking. Drop in and get one or drop a card or letter and we will mail you a copy free.

This book is not what the Ford Motor Company has to say about the Fordson Tractor, but what the tens of thousands of users have to say. Get the book! It is yours for the asking. Keep in mind the fact that behind every Fordson Tractor are all the resources of the great Ford Motor Company, likewise that reliable "Ford After-Service" which assures the keeping of the Tractor in working order every day in the year. Remember also that the Fordson Tractor, like the Ford car, is simplicity itself in design and construction; easy to understand and easy to operate. Come in and let us tell you more about it. It is more important to the farmer today than anything else.

The Age of Machine Power on the Farm is no longer a matter of speculation; it is here—an established fact. It is the latest advanced step civilization has taken. It comes to the farmer with the full promise to lift the great burden of drudgery and wearisome, wearing-out toil from the muscles of man and carrying them with much more profit by power of machinery, with the result that larger production, more comfort and greater wealth will come to the farm homes wherever the Fordson is employed. Come in and talk it over.

The Woman He Married

BY JANE PHELPS

DICK'S MORALE WEAKENS

Chapter 36

For several days I annoyed Dick with questions about the cotton market. I also asked Clara to tell me all she knew about speculation. She told me of Wall Street, of the men and women who won fortunes over night.

"If Jim were in a broker's office I would make him buy stocks," she said. "Dick has a wonderful scheme. I am surprised he never has speculated."

"Do you get tips?" I asked Dick one night.

"Yes—sometimes. Been talking to someone about the market, haven't you?"

"Only to Clara. She said you were in a position to get good tips."

"Please don't talk of me or my business with your women friends. I don't—only to Clara. But have you had any tips lately?"

"Yes. Only today Mr. Brums, one of our best customers told me to buy futures."

I hadn't the slightest idea what futures were, but asked:

"Would you have made money if you had?"

"Yes. He was dead right."

"Honestly, Dick, I don't think you are fair. It is only just and right for men to make all they can to care for their families and educate their children. Perhaps you will not always work where you can get tips. Don't you want comforts, luxuries, freedom from worries, and some day a nice home of your own? Why, we might be independent of everyone (I thought of my debt to Mildred, and to Madame Felice) instead of losing all the joy of living because we are so scrupled. Promise me the next time you hear of anything that will make us money you will try it."

"It takes money to speculate."

"Not much if you know, does it?"

"One never can be sure. But perhaps you are right, and I should take a chance occasionally. I'd have to borrow money to work with and that I am not prepared to do."

I said no more then but I felt sure Dick would find some way to try his luck. And I was just as sure he would have luck.

Clara had two tickets given her for a wonderful concert at Carnegie Hall and then we were to go to a studio tea in the same building. I was delighted that I had my new dress to wear. I would be sure to meet someone whom I knew, and Mildred was to be there—another reason that I wanted to look nice.

As I dressed I thought of Dick and the chance, as I now thought of it, that he had to make money. It took away all feeling of anything wrong in the purchase of the smart dress I donned. If he could make money as Clara said he could, and wouldn't, why he wasn't being fair to me.

Mrs. Dooley had just come in to stay with Junior when the bell rang. She answered the door for me. It was Mrs. Gray.

"I've been canning some peaches. I kept enough out for our dessert tonight and thought perhaps you and Mr. Williams might also enjoy them."

She gave me a glass bowl filled with wonderful peaches.

"This is so nice of you," I said. It was what the neighbors did at home so I was not unused to such little kindnesses.

"I am only pleased if you enjoy them," she said and then left. Someway the little homely thought made an impression upon me out of all proportion to the act. It was the first thing of the kind that had happened to me in New York. Clara had been kind, Mildred generous; but Mrs. Gray, a perfect stranger, had divided her dessert with me. In my next letter to mother I told her all about it.

I met Clara at the entrance to Carnegie, and we went in together. Clara looked very nice—she always did, but I knew, even before she said so, that I was far more stylishly dressed, that I outshone her.

It flattered my vanity, and I chattered happily, never giving a thought to the day of reckoning that must surely come.
